Price of Mexican Money.

For a number of days the buying price of Mexican money has been 40 cents. Then it dropped to 44 and then to 42 cents. But when a number of men who have interests in Mexico attempted to buy the Mexican currency, it was held by the banks at from 45 to 47 cents. However, the bankers say they have to exact a price higher than they pay to insure them for the risk they take in buying it at all.
